Thursday, September 19, 2013

The Record

GLEN ROCK — Smokers, take note: Avoid Glen Rock's parks if you want to light up.

Add Glen Rock to the growing list of Bergen County communities that have banned smoking in public parks in recent months.

The ban, approved unanimously by the Borough Council last week, establishes smoke-free areas around parks, fields and playgrounds.

Other facilities, including the borough pool, are also now smoke-free zones under the ordinance.

Signs detailing the ban will be displayed in all affected areas.

Those failing to abide by the new mandate face a $1,000 fine or 90 days of community service.
